

ASX RELEASE: 12 February 2020

Metalicity & Nex Metals Corporate Discussions

Metalicity Limited (ASX:MCT) (“MCT”) and Nex Metals Explorations Ltd (ASX:NME) (“NME”) are pleased to announce that initial discussions between MCT and NME are ongoing around a proposal of a corporate transaction.

Whilst discussions are preliminary, the proposed transaction has the intent to unlock the value of the Kookynie and Yundamindra Gold Projects and fast track the farm in agreement executed between the two companies (please refer to ASX Announcement “Metalicity Farms Into Prolific Kookynie & Yundamindra Gold Projects, WA” dated 6th May 2019).

Both Nex Metals and Metalicity are pleased with the results produced to date with the exploration and development work completed. Discussions are centred on being able to build the value for both Company’s shareholders and move the Projects forward expeditiously.

Given the preliminary, indicative and non-binding nature of the discussions, there can be no assurance at this stage whether a transaction will eventuate.
